Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to apply for the open graphic designer position on your team at Stebbings Partners. I am enthusiastic about the chance work for an agency that produces such excellent creative solutions and works with the clientele that Stebbings does. With my design skills and team-oriented approach, I feel I would be a fit for this position.

As a graphic design student, I am proficient with the Adobe Creative Suite as well as the formal and conceptual aspects of design. I work efficiently and am a quick and confident learner, and I approach projects with utmost care. I thrive on new challenges and my problem solving skills are some of my strongest assets. Currently, I work part-time at the Apple Retail Store and have become extremely adept at navigating computers, operating systems, and other aspects of technology. Aside from being comfortable with technology, I have prior experience working closely on a design team and creating work for print and other mediums. Last spring, I worked on a small design team consisting of my peers to create a catalog of winners for the 2014 New England Book Show, held by the Bookbuilders of Boston. The experience of working together with other designers to create a finished product was one of the best I've had, and I would love the chance to work on a team again. I am also versed in customer service, speaking with clients and understanding their needs from my experience working with customers at Apple Retail.

I would welcome the chance to learn alongside and be a part of your creative design team at Stebbings Partners. Thank you for your time and consideration for this position.

I look forward to hearing from you.
